

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

JEREMIAH JOVEN JOAQUIN, Ph.D. (De La Salle University) is a Professor of Philosophy at De La Salle University, Manila, Philippines, where he is also a Research Fellow at the Southeast Asian Research Center and Hub (SEARCH) and a Research Affiliate at the Jesse Robredo Institute for Governance (JRIG). He is the current President of the Philosophical Association of the Philippines (PAP) and the founding Secretary-General of the Union of Societies and Associations of Philosophy in the Philippines (USAPP). He specializes in logic, metaphysics, and the philosophy of religion.

MIN SEONG KIM, Ph.D. (University of Essex) is a Lecturer in the Graduate Program in Cultural Studies at Sanata Dharma University, Yogyakarta, Indonesia. Since 2021, he is the chief editor of Retorik, an interdisciplinary humanities journal published by the same university. He has taught courses on various topics in cultural studies and supervised graduate theses that pertain to ideology critique and radical politics. His current research interests include the political implications of Alain Badiou's set-theoretical ontology, the discourse of the Anthropocene, and the Indonesian state ideology of Pancasila.

IAN RAYMOND B. PACQUING, Ph.D. (University of Santo Tomas) is an Associate Professor of Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila. He is also a fellow researcher at UST Research Center for Culture, Arts, and the Humanities. His research focuses on social philosophy, critical theory, and the psycho-social philosophy of Erich Fromm. He has published articles in two distinct journals – Kritike and Philosophia. He teaches Ethics, Modernity, and St. Thomas and Critical Thinking at the undergraduate and post-graduate levels.

BEN CARLO N. ATIM, M.A. (University of the Philippines-Diliman) is an Assistant Professor of Philosophy at the Department of History and Philosophy, College of Social Sciences, University of the Philippines (Baguio). His research interests are German and French Phenomenology, Ethics, History of Western Philosophy, Philosophy of Religion, and Political Philosophy. He is a Ph.D. student at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila. He has published articles in respectable local journals on Filipino Philosophy, Hermeneutics, Meister Eckhart, Martin Heidegger, and Jean-Luc Marion. He also authored textbooks for Senior High School - Introduction to the Philosophy of the Human Person (2019) and Introduction to World Religions (2016; 2019).

JESSIE JOSHUA Z. LINO, M.A. (University of Santo Tomas) is a member of the Department of Philosophy, University of Santo Tomas. He is a current student at the UST Graduate School (Manila, Philippines) taking up Ph.D. in Philosophy, and a student of the School of Materialist Research (Skopje, North Macedonia). He currently serves as a Managing Editor of Suri: Journal of the Philosophical Association of the Philippines, Inc., and co-founded (along with Ranier Carlo V. Abengaña) The Critical University Studies Project. Against the idea of specializations and over-valorization in philosophy, he is interested in contemporary political philosophy, post-structuralism, new materialism, classical studies, and the philosophy of movement.

UFUK ÖZEN BAYKENT, Ph.D. (Uludag University, Turkey), teaches philosophy of language and English Literature at Bursa Uludag University, Turkey. Having obtained her B.A. and M.A. degrees in foreign language teaching, she focused on the study of language and literature. Her Ph.D. in Philosophy directed her studies toward an interdisciplinary context, focusing on the links among philosophy, language, and literature. She has published papers on philosophy of education, philosophy of language, and philosophy in literature. She is the author of the book entitled An Introductory Course to Philosophy of Language.

JUAN RAFAEL G. MACARANAS, Ph.D. (De La Salle University, Manila) is a full professor at De La Salle-College of Saint Benilde in Manila, Philippines, teaching Philosophy and Religion subjects. He holds degrees in philosophy, religious studies, and music and specializes in philosophy of education. His other research interests include ethics, religion, and music. He is the Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Philippine National Philosophical Research Society (PNPRS) and a Board representative to the Union of Societies and Associations of Philosophy in the Philippines (USAPP).

ANTON HEINRICH L. RENNESLAND, M.A. (University of Santo Tomas) is an instructor in the Department of Philosophy and a Ph.D. researcher at the Graduate School, University of Santo Tomas, Manila. He has several publications, the most recent are “The Enlightenment on Stage: A Celebration of Two Critiques” in Philosophia (January 2022) and “Reimagining Utopia as Dwelling: An Attempt at a Critical Theory of Space,” (Re)Inventing the Utopian Spaces (Newcastle upon Tyne: Cambridge Scholars Publishing, 2022). He is a managing editor of Kritike: An Online Journal of Philosophy <<https://www.kritike.org/>>, and his fields of interest are Friedrich Nietzsche, Peter Sloterdijk, Urbanism, and Comparative/Multicultural Philosophy.

BRYLE LOUIS T. DAYACAP is a 4th-year student of Philosophy and Accountancy at De La Salle University, Manila, Philippines. His areas of specialization are phenomenology and existentialism. His research interests are performance philosophy and applied philosophy. His undergraduate thesis is entitled Phenomenology of Actor-Character Empathy: Uncovering a Kind of Empathy Through Edith Stein’s Degrees of Empathy.