

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

PETER M. COLLINS, Ph.D. (Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C.), was Senior Research Fellow at the Institute for the History of Philosophy and Pedagogy in Rockville, Maryland. He taught philosophy as a full-time faculty member of Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He also taught in various other universities and published papers in the United States and in several other countries, including the Philippines. His teaching and research focus is on philosophy and education.

NAPOLEON M. MABAQUIAO, JR., Ph.D. (De La Salle University, Manila), is Professor at the Philosophy Department of De La Salle University, Manila. He has published in local and international journals and has read papers in both national and international conferences. He has written a book on the philosophy of mind. His research interests include philosophy of mind, philosophy of language, and ethics.

RAŞIT ÇELİK, Ph.D. (Indiana University) is Associate Professor in the Department of Educational Sciences and serves as chair of the Curriculum and Instruction Program at Trabzon University, Turkey. He has several publications in international journals. His research interests include philosophy of education, political philosophy, and education policies, with a particular focus on the concepts of justice and democracy.

GABRIEL ANDRADE, Ph.D. (University of Zulia, Venezuela) is currently an Assistant Professor of Ethics and Behavioral Science at St. Matthew's University School of Medicine, Cayman Islands. He has been a professor at University of Zulia (Venezuela), College of the Marshall Islands (Republic of the Marshall Islands), Xavier University School of Medicine (Aruba). He has written numerous popular philosophy books in Spanish, as well as various academic articles in English.

MARIÁN AMBROZY, Ph.D. (Trnava University) is an Assistant Professor in Philosophy and Vice-Rector for Science, Research and International Relations at the College of International Business ISM Slovakia in Prešov. He has degrees in history and business administration. He has published articles in various international journals. His main research interests are: philosophy of physics, didactics of philosophy and Martin Heidegger philosophy of science.

MILOŠ LOKAJÍČEK, RNDr. (Charles University), DrSc. (Czechoslovak Academy of Science) was a Professor of theoretical physics at Gustav Siewerth Academy in Weilheim-Bierbrunn, Germany. Currently he works as senior researcher in the Division of Elementary Particle Physics, Department of Particle Theory and Phenomenology at the Institute of Physics, Czech Academy of Sciences. He has published numerous articles in various international journals. His main areas of research are in radiobiology, hadron therapy, axioms of quantum physics and natural philosophy.

MICHAL VALČO, Ph.D. (Comenius University of Bratislava) is a Research Professor of religious studies and theology at the Greek Catholic Theological Faculty University of Presov. He was an Associate Professor of ethics at the Constantine the Philosopher University in Nitra and Professor of religious studies at the University of Presov in Presov. He has published articles in various international journals. His research interest focuses on selected topics/authors of philosophy of religion and theology, the situation of the churches under and after the era of totalitarianism, and contemporary challenges in theological/philosophical ethics related artificial intelligence and biotechnologies.

JOVE JIM S. AGUAS, Ph.D. (University of Santo Tomas, Manila) is a Professor of philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila. He is a research faculty associated with the Center for Religious Studies and Ethics of UST. He is the Executive Governor of the Philippine National Philosophical Research Society (PNPRS). He has written extensively on culture, philosophy of religion, ethics and philosophy of the human person and has published several articles in international journals on the said areas. His research interests are in existentialism, intercultural and interreligious dialogue, philosophy of religion and ethics.

BEVERLY A. SARZA, Ph.D. (De La Salle University) is an Assistant Professor and teaches full-time at the Philosophy Department of De La Salle University-Manila. Her interests include aesthetics, philosophy of art, gender studies, animal ethics, and Filipino philosophy. She has participated and presented papers in various local and international conferences.

WILFRIED M.A. VANHOUTTE, Ph.D. (Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium), has studied at Pontificio Ateneo Sant' Anselmo, Rome. Currently, he is a part-time professor of philosophy and heads a study center for the history and spirituality of the CICM mission at the Saint Louis University, Baguio City. He also regularly contributes to the university's campus publications. His fields of interest are in the history of philosophy, philosophy of culture, philosophical anthropology, and the border area between philosophy and religious spirituality. He is the book review editor of this journal.