

Contents

Introduction: Reviving the Dialogue with Max Scheler .....	1
Susan Gottlöber
Part I New Perspectives on Individual Development, Embodiment, and Value Feeling
Scheler's Anti-Representationalism: From Moral Illusions to Moral Facts .....	17
Gemmo Iocco
Individual Destiny and Readiness for Self-Reorchestration: Exemplariness and Repentance as Overriding Keys to the Formation of Individuality .....	31
Bianca Bellini
The World as "Representation": Scheler's Philosophy of Psychopathology .....	63
Roberta Guccinelli
"Das Schema unseres Leibes": Scheler's Forgotten Influence on the Contemporary Debate About Embodiment .....	101
Maria Chiara Bruttomesso
Part II Max Scheler as Interlocutor
Value and Norm: Max Scheler's Material Value Ethics in Comparison with Windelband's Transcendental Value Philosophy .....	119
Riku Yokoyama
Intuiting the Divine? Erich Przywara's Critique of Scheler's Phenomenology of Religion .....	133
Susan Gottlöber

Max Scheler and Concepts of the Tragic in European Philosophy of the Twentieth Century .....	161
Mikhail Khorkov
Knud Ejler Løgstrup's Reception of Max Scheler's Ethics of 1932 and Beyond .....	173
Bjørn Rabjerg
Part III Max Scheler in Social and Political Thought
From Nationalism to Cosmopolitanism: Scheler's Political Trajectory ...	193
Zachary Davis
Ausgleich and Allmensch in Confrontation with Contemporary Thought .....	207
Eugene Kelly
Scheler's Phenomenology of Value as Value Pluralism .....	221
Devin Fitzpatrick
Peace and War: Value Pluralism in the Light of Phenomenology .....	239
Roberta De Monticelli
Author Index .....	261
Subject Index .....	265