This is the first issue of volume 20. Compared to some other journals in ethics, ETMP is a youngster. Youngsters still enjoy celebrating their anniversary. ETMP's birthday party is a conference on 'Dimensions of Responsibility' that will take place on June 8–9 of this year in Pavia, Italy. If you would like to attend the conference, please go to the conference website <http://etmp2017.wixsite.com/home>

After 6 years of service as an Associate Editor, Björn Petersson has decided to leave our team. Björn was a very reliable colleague who did his editorial work with great, but inconspicuous dedication. And with the accuracy of a good administrator: he could tell us having handled more than 400 submissions. Thanks Björn! Björn's successor is András Szigeti who studied in Budapest and Oxford and is now senior lecturer in practical philosophy in Linköping. Welcome András!

This issue is entirely a special issue containing 10 articles that are revisions of keynote lectures and papers that were presented during the conference 'Moral Progress: Concepts, Measurements, and Applications' that took place on June 24–25, 2015 at the Vrije Universiteit, Amsterdam. The theme of moral progress and the contributions to the issue are introduced by the issue's editors in a separate introduction.
